INDEX OF CASES IN THIS PART

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW

Judicial review — Procedural fairness — Decision of medical review panel made pursuant to Motor Accident Injuries Act 2017 (NSW) regarding percentage whole body impairment suffered by claimant in motor accident — Decision quashed at first instance based on denial of procedural fairness to claimant — Whether primary judge erred in finding procedural fairness was denied — Content of procedural fairness obligations owed by medical review panel as compared to court or tribunal: AAI Ltd (t/as GIO) v Amos 107 MVR 210

Judicial review — Time extension — Whether time should be extended to allow judicial review of first of three decisions — Extension of time not granted — Where judicial review of following two decisions also fails: AAI Ltd (t/as AAMI Ltd) v Jacobs 107 MVR 199

CRIMINAL LAW

Convicting of summary or back up offence after trial — Appeal in strict sense — Appeal under ss 5AD and 5AA of Criminal Appeal Act 1912 (NSW) — Where error of law must be established — Amended grounds of appeal — Where appellant convicted of negligent driving occasioning death — Appellant police officer involved in pursuit of motorbike — Whether judge erred in failing to determine whether she took into account course of driving — Where judge referred to earlier driving but found negligence at time of collision — No substance to ground of appeal — Whether judge erred in finding negligence where there was no evidence that appellant failed to keep safe distance — Ample evidence to justify finding — Whether primary judge took into account irrelevant consideration — Police safe driving policy — Appellant's knowledge of driving in breach of part of policy and pursuit guidelines — Whether judge did not refer to other breaches of policy — Whether judge failed to provide adequate reasons — Judgment brief but provided amply adequate reasons: Kelly v R 107 MVR 253

Whether jury verdict unreasonable — Collision between applicant's and deceased's vehicles — Where applicant convicted of dangerous driving occasioning death while under influence of intoxicating liquor against s 52A(1)(a) of Crimes Act 1900 (NSW) (Crimes Act) — Defenses — Where applicant relied on defense under s 52A(8) of Crimes Act that death not in any way attributable to his intoxication — Where applicant bore onus of proving defense on balance of probabilities — Whether jury bound to find defense proven on whole of evidence — Whether only available finding was that collision occurred in applicant's lane and therefore not attributable in any way to applicant's intoxication — Assessment of evidence — Whether jury bound to find eye witness's account unreliable — Jury's advantage in assessing witnesses — Assessment of expert evidence — Validity of assumptions made by experts: Irvin v R 107 MVR 232

PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

Conviction — Conviction in absence of appellant — Whether magistrate erred in entering judgment: Hoek v WA Police 107 MVR 182

PROCEDURE

Powers of court — Pedestrian injured in motor vehicle accident — First respondent was driver of motor vehicle — Second respondent third insurer of motor vehicle — Appellant irregularly commenced proceeding by filing claim and statement of claim in Supreme Court before holding compulsory conference as required by s 51A of Motor Accident Insurance Act 1994 (Qld) — Where respondents informed appellant of his procedural errors and agreed on de facto extension of applicable limitation period — Where on application by second respondent primary judge ordered claim to be set aside — Whether primary judge erred in exercise of his discretion by not ordering claim to be stayed pending compliance with s 51A: Wang v Ford 107 MVR 188

TORTS

Negligence — Duty of care — Causation — Factual causation — Whether trial judge erred in law by failing to comply with rule in Browne v Dunn — Meaning of "contrived" — Procedural fairness — Whether trial judge erred in law in failing to provide procedural fairness to appellant — Whether trial judge's conclusion in relation to factual causation illogical or unreasonable — No denial of procedural fairness — No error of law: Davie v Manuel 107 MVR 147

Respondent struck by motor vehicle — Contributory negligence of respondent: Allianz Australia Insurance Ltd v Eden 107 MVR 195
