

Who should attend?

- In-House Counsel/General Counsel/Legal Counsel
- Government Lawyers
- Partners and Senior Associates
- Solicitors, Associates and Litigators
- Barristers
- CEO's, CFO's, COO's from mining and resources
- Mine Managers
- Company Secretary

16 May 2012, Conference
17 May 2012, Workshops
Stamford Plaza Brisbane

National Mining Law 2012

Defining focus on industry knowledge and progressive practice

Mining and resources is an industry that continues to dominate the headlines and is the back-bone of the Australian economy.

The National Mining Law 2012 conference brings together the most adept legal minds operating in the mining and resources space to provide critical insight and know-how. Get updated and equipped with leading-edge perspectives and the latest legislative changes in this legal field.

Take advantage of this occasion to network and interact with our eminent selection of speakers and fellow delegates and learn from the various viewpoints of every major area of legal practice and related industry verticals in the resources sector.

Speakers

- Jeremy Chenoweth, Senior Construction/Commercial, Lawyer, GLNG Operations Pty Ltd (SANTOS)
- Robert Milbourne, Partner, Norton Rose

Learning outcomes

- Gain targeted and comprehensive advice to be better equipped to serve your clients
- Examine and understand how to navigate the complexities of this high risk domain
- Attain practical legal skills to meet the legal and regulatory challenges that confront the rapidly shifting mining landscape
- Be prepared to meet the new and emerging challenges in the mining and resources industry, in order to maintain industry competitiveness