Implementing risk culture and practice: Critical updates & case studies

Real People Real Stories Real Solutions
Learn from risk leaders and practitioners

A post GFC economy presents us with a different risk landscape in 2010 than that of previous years, but have things changed that much?

Rather than bombard you with academia and 'good ideas' we aim to provide you with proven practices by means of critical updates and case studies from the coal face.

As the premier event for risk professionals, the 2010 Risk Management conference will bring together leading risk practitioners that will offer you practical information on key risk management issues and solutions.

Hear case studies and whitepapers from industry, associations, regulatory and government and network with other senior risk officers.

Ensure your organisation is at the forefront of industry developments by hearing all the latest successes and failures and take away the strategies that will help you succeed.
